Busy Philipps is... busy. The actor, best known for the TV series Freaks and Geeks, Dawson's Creek, and Cougar Town is also an author, podcast host, hands-on mom and, incidentally, a highly discerning hotels enthusiast.

"I really do love hotels," says Philipps. "I love staying in a hotel and I love staying in a nice hotel." What defines "nice" for Philipps of course depends on the type of trip she's planning, whether it's with family, friends or, if things are really going her way, just herself. "I am my perfect someone to travel with," she tells us.

"Hotels are a luxury... you should get what you want"

When her kids are along, hotels like Four Seasons Resort Hualalai in Hawaii draw her back year after year. "We love Hualalai for a family vacation," she says. "It's all contained, everything's there, they've got a great kids club, the food is delicious—the snow cone alone is worth the price of admission."

● Busy Philipps's perfect stay? It all depends on who she's traveling with...

There are other times, though, that Philipps is looking for a solo trip or much-appreciated time away with friends. "I love Zero George in Charleston," she says. "It's a smaller boutique hotel—not a place I would necessarily go with kids—but it's so chic," she says. "They have this little restaurant, cocktails on the porch every night, and you can rent bikes and tool around Charleston—it's the perfect location."

Years of travel experience have made her a pro at finding her perfect somewhere: “I think it’s a luxury to be able to stay in a hotel,” she says, “and you should get exactly what you want.”

Busy’s perfect somewhere

The St. Regis Punta Mita Resort

Mexico

“I only had four-and-a-half days away from my kids to hang out with my girlfriends. I needed it to be delightful. And so I found the St. Regis.”
